

Car Privacy

Consumer, Privacy & Antitrust

Background Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP is investigating automakers selling personal information, including driver behavior, to third-party data brokers, who then sell the information to insurers, causing owners' insurance rates to increase.
If you believe your insurance rates have gone up from your car tracking your driving behavior, please contact us at consumerprotection@bfalaw.com, or fill out the form on this page.

Bleichmar Fonti & Auld LLP is investigating Automakers Selling Personal Information, including driver behavior, to third-party data brokers, who then sell the information to insurers, causing owners' insurance rates to increase. If you believe your insurance rates have gone up from your car tracking your driving behavior, please contact us at consumerprotection@bfalaw.com, or fill out the form on this page.