Why is Pentair being investigated for Securities Fraud?

Pentair is being investigated for securities fraud following a significant stock drop. The decline in Pentair's stock price caused significant losses to investors.

Pentair is a sustainable water solutions company comprised of three reportable segments: Flow, Water Solutions, and Pool. Pool is Pentair's most profitable business segment.

BFA is investigating whether Pentair misled investors by making misstatements about its inventory levels by pool industry distributors.

Why did Pentair's Stock Drop?

On July 14, 2026, after hours, Pentair released its 2026 Q2 financial results. Pentair announced a significant 17% year-over-year decline in sales due to the adverse impact of Pool channel inventory. Pentair estimated the destocking of inventory in the Pool channel negatively impacted Pool segment sales by approximately $170 million and Pool segment income by approximately $105 million.

The same day, Pentair also announced the departure of its CFO Nick Brazis, just four months after taking the position.

This news caused the price of Pentair common stock to decline $11.35 per share, or 15%, from $75.68 per share on July 14, 2026, to $64.33 per share on July 15, 2026.
