

BFA Partner Erin Woods to Speak at the 2025 Investment Education Symposium

On February 27, 2025, BFA Partner Erin Woods will serve as a panelist on the panel mediated by James Thompson of the Denver Employees Retirement System at this year's Investment Education Symposium hosted by the Louisiana Trustee Education Council. The panel titled "Integrating Securities Litigation: Key Developments, Impact, and Case Studies" will provide an overview of securities monitoring and litigation and will touch on recent developments in litigation. Institutional Investors will attend this conference to exchange ideas and learn from other delegates and presenters who manage some of the largest capital flows within both the traditional and the alternative investment communities.