Michael Russo is Director of Operations at BFA, and oversees the management activities of the firm, including all technology, human resources, paralegal, and facilities-related functions.

Michael works closely with BFA's partners to ensure that the firm is operating at the highest possible level, with the capabilities and responsiveness necessary to serve BFA's clients. In this capacity, he facilitates the day-to-day needs of the firm as well as its long-term strategic goals.

Michael brings over 20 years of law firm experience to his role, and his insight into the practical requirements of successful litigation is central to his management of firm operations. Prior to joining BFA, Michael was a paralegal at a number of other prestigious law firms. He has accumulated significant experience managing the litigation needs of dozens of complex cases throughout his career, and has a thorough understanding of staff oversight, caseload management, and all aspects of litigation ranging from case initiation through trial.

Michael received his B.A. from Marist College where he earned his degree in economics. He is a member of the Association of Legal Administrators (ALA).
